Free Outdoor Movie Screening "The Joy Luck Club"

Summers in LA are even better in the evening, when the weather cools down and the stars come out. And by stars we mean movie stars, of course! Join us on Friday, April 29th at 6:30 p.m. (seating time) in the open courtyard of Central Plaza for a screening of "The Joy Luck Club," the cinematic adaptation of Amy Tan's groundbreaking novel.

The story focuses on four Chinese-American immigrant families who start a club known as "the Joy Luck Club," playing the Chinese game of Mahjong for money while feasting on beautiful arrays of Chinese dishes. The three mothers and four daughters share stories about their lives in the form of vignettes, each story relating back to the game of Mahjong.

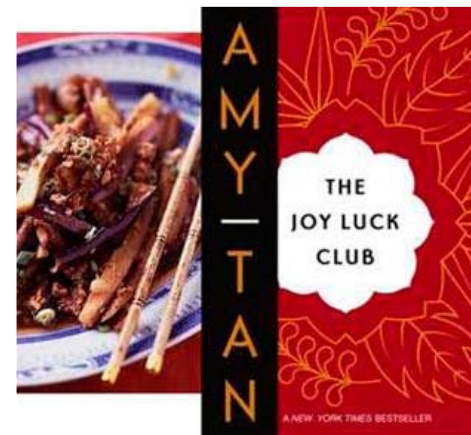

6:30pm Seating
7:00pm Film Screening
9:30pm Dessert Reception

Central Plaza
943-951 N. Broadway
Los Angeles, CA 90012

Culinary Tour: Eat and Drink Your Way through "The Joy Luck Club"

Join us for a culinary tour of Chinatown with dishes inspired by Amy Tan's book, "The Joy Luck Club." Experience the tastes and hospitality of historic Chinatown in this exclusive three-hour culinary tour. This food tour is an urban adventure that can lead you to culinary experiences that are hard to find on your own. Bring walking shoes and an appetite. Advance purchase required. Tickets will sell out!

Thursday, May 19, 2011
6:30pm - 9:30pm
$50 Dinner Only
$75 Dinner with Wine Pairing

NEWS ROUNDUP

Chinatown is Accepting Proposals from Event Organizers

Chinatown is seeking proposals from event organizers and promoters in Los Angeles to develop and execute small to large scale events in Chinatown. Events can range from education symposiums, conferences, music concerts, arts and crafts festivals, street festivals, outdoor markets, fashion shows or other cultural/community events you would like to propose.

Los Angeles Chinatown has great venues both outdoors and indoors for many types of events. We can also provide in-kind support for organizers depending on the type of event proposed.

If interested, please submit a one page or less proposal including what type of venue you need, a rough budget, and your contact information to: info@chinatownla.com.

API PAN Presents: LA's Cultural Heritage Connections Conference

May 13, 2011 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
Location: California Endowment Foundation Center
1000 N Alameda St., Los Angeles 90012

The conference will focus on connecting LA's diverse cultural ethnic neighborhoods through day-long educational training:

- Cultural heritage tourism strategies
- Capacity building and fundraising resources
- Marketing our neighborhoods and businesses
- Network with peers and representatives to build partnerships and new collaborations
- Define the relevance of cultural heritage tourism to your communities, economies and visitors

Community Connect: Chinatown Hosts Los Angeles Southwest College students

The BID is working with Darren Grosch from Los Angeles Southwest College to create a "China in a Day" Community connect event for a small group of college-level students. The BID assisted in identifying some unique people and programs in Chinatown for the day's activities for ways to bring our communities together. Activities scheduled include tour of Chinatown by Chinese Historical Society, "Joy Luck Club" lunch at Golden City, scavenger hunt, and visit and exchange with the youths from Chinatown Service Center.
